Event History

The 1st Annual GABCA Senior All-Star Showcase was a success last March with the light team edging out the dark team 107-100 in a high-scoring affair. The event is open to all senior players of four-year schools whose head coach holds an active GABCA membership. Chris Telesford of Columbus State was named the Most Valuable Player of the first annual event with Jake Rios of Georgia College & State University winning the first ever three-point shootout.

Three-Point Shootout

At halftime there will be a three-point shootout. To qualify for the shootout, players must have made a minimum of 1.0 three-pointers per game and shot threes at 38% or better.

About GABCA

The Georgia Basketball Coaches Association (GABCA) was founded in the summer of 2007 and serves as a vehicle to promote small college basketball in the state of Georgia. Coaches of NCAA Division II, NCAA Division III, NAIA, NCCAA, and Junior Colleges are eligible for membership. Annual events of the GABCA include a coaches social in the fall and spring semesters, release of All-State teams, and a senior All-Star game in late March. In the association's first year, the membership was made up of eight coaches representing five schools and in just four years has grown to include 46 coaches from 20 schools.
