*Ready. Set.
Lead.*

In today's business world, transformational leaders possess a unique skill set.

They are confident decision-makers.

They can take – and direct – action.

They understand ethical boundaries.

Instilling these traits is at the heart of the Management Concentration in the Walker School of Business.

Why Study Management At Piedmont?

We have developed a unique program that is both broad and specific. Why both? Simple.

Standout managers possess a unique perspective. They can see the complete picture and comprehend the details – at the same time. Our students explore big topics like entrepreneurship and world markets. And they dig down into the fine print of financial statements and human resources.

Our distinctive approach – created to empower planning, organizing, leading, and controlling – will give you the tools to surge ahead in your career. Combine the mentoring of professors with impressive real-world experience with networking and internships, and you have a rock-solid foundation for succeeding (quickly) in the workforce. Or, if you're interested in advanced education, succeeding (highly) in an MBA program or law school.

Where Do I Start?

Let us hear from you. You'll find all the details you need to contact us below.
